WELCOME MESSAGE

On behalf of the Board of Directors and staff of the South Bay Workforce Investment Board (SBWIB) we are proud to present this 2021-2022 Annual Report that highlights some of the many accomplishments and milestones the SBWIB achieved during our 40th year of providing essential services and support to our workforce partners, businesses and individuals seeking training and employment opportunities.

The SBWIB team continued to provide professional yet flexible services and support to businesses and individual adult and youth job seekers through in person and virtual/social media options in this post-pandemic era. More than 65,000 individuals seeking to enter the workforce for the first time or upgrade their skills to gain better employment, visited our four One-Stop Business and Career Centers to enroll in no cost training and employment preparation services.

Thanks to the tremendous support we continued to receive from our partners in education, elected officials at the local, state and federal levels of government, and leaders in business and industry, we were able to access grants that are enabling us to expand our innovative earn and learn models of internships and apprenticeships into the fields of Healthcare/Bioscience, Information Technology/Cybersecurity, Arts/Media and Entertainment, and Clean Energy/Transportation.

As you go through this report you will see just a sampling of the many success stories that have been accomplished by individuals who received the services and completed training that enabled them to overcome barriers to employment and gain meaningful quality jobs. You will also learn about businesses that were assisted in attracting qualified applicants to fill their vacant positions, while others utilized the SBWIB's many services to help them avoid layoffs or take advantage of subsidized employment opportunities.

Our continued success and status as one of the top performing workforce boards in the state is directly attributable to the commitment and professionalism of our dedicated staff and the total support of our board members and advisory committees, as well as our many community partners.

About South Bay Workforce Investment Board

The South Bay Workforce Investment Board's (SBWIB) service strategies for adult and youth job seekers have evolved over the more than 40 years that it has provided no cost employment and training services throughout the greater Los Angeles South Bay Region. The SBWIB has utilized evolving technology to meet the service needs of its diverse communities with emphasis on inclusion for underserved populations that need help overcoming barriers to employment and career pathways.

SBWIB's One-Stop Business & Career Centers provide an array of off-the-shelf and specialized services to assist large and small companies in meeting their hiring goals, lowering training costs, improving employee skill levels, reducing turnover rates, avoiding layoffs and managing a more qualified workforce.

The SBWIB is guided by a Board of Directors comprised of over 50 volunteer members representing business, labor, education, community-based organizations, economic development and other key stakeholders who meet quarterly and also serve on advisory committees that help shape policies.

The SBWIB service area encompasses 11 South Bay cities including Inglewood, Hawthorne, Carson, El Segundo, Gardena, Hermosa Beach, Lawndale, Manhattan Beach, Lomita, Redondo Beach and Torrance.

MISSION STATEMENT

Using the most cost-effective services, and demand driven strategies, our mission is to build a world-class workforce through strategic alliances with business, education and community partners.

VISION STATEMENT

We will promote an innovative workforce development system that supports job retention and creation, and accelerates economic growth in the South Bay region.

Cost Effectiveness

Total Economic Return From One-Stop Centers

The SBWIB's funded adult programs are managed with a close eye for their return on investment. This year's adult programs provided a return on investment of $5.05 for every federal dollar spent. The Dislocated Worker program's return was $6.78 for every federal dollar spent. The combined average return on investment is $5.90.

Return on investment is formulated by first measuring the total training and job placement dollars invested on programs related to unemployed individuals. Next, this figure is compared to the employment rate and taxes paid by those individuals after receiving unsubsidized employment.

By comparing the cost of job placement to the wages earned and taxes paid after the individuals become employed, substantial evidence is provided that the taxpaying public is receiving long-term benefits because of the economic gains returned to the economy through employment.

Saul Martinez

SUCCESS STORY

Saul Martinez was referred to the South Bay One-Stop in Inglewood by reentry partner Friends Outside of Los Angeles County, shortly after serving a 20-year sentence and being on parole. He faced many challenges, including living in a transitional housing facility while attempting to join the workforce during a national pandemic. His experience was limited to skills obtained from state prison labor programs and low-paying jobs upon his release.

Saul was enrolled in the Prison to Employment program and in a Commercial Truck Driving Certificate program with partner training provider Dolphin Trucking School.

He met all behind-the-wheel DMV requirements, obtained his Class A Commercial Truck Driving License and was employed in a matter of weeks. He remains employed as a truck driver and has secured permanent housing.

"I want to thank the Inglewood One-Stop for helping me through this process. I love my job and am truly blessed to have been able to get the help from the Inglewood One-Stop. I appreciate my career counselor's help in getting me where I needed to go to get my career started."

Angel Montenegro

SUCCESS STORY

Angel Montenegro, 20, a recent high school graduate and low-income youth living in public housing with limited employment history, attended a Community Open House hosted by SBWIB in partnership with the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles (HACLA).

In coordination with his career counselor, Angel was sponsored into the Local 300 Labor Union and dispatched to SoFi Stadium as a landscaper within days of his program enrollment. His daily duties at SoFi Stadium included maintaining Inglewood's most prominent project and its meticulous landscaping in preparation for the highly anticipated Super Bowl LVI.

Angel remains employed as a Local 300 Level I apprentice with steady wage increases since his hire date.

"One Stop staff was always very professional and ready to help me. In a very short time I was able to get this job and get my construction career started. I appreciate all the assistance and support received from the One-Stop team."

LOS ANGELES BASIN REGIONAL PLANNING UNIT PRISON TO EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

The South Bay Workforce Investment Board in collaboration with seven other Workforce Development Boards in the Los Angeles Region, continued to serve the leading role in providing services to formerly incarcerated and justice involved individuals wanting to reenter the workforce under the Prison to Employment Program. The SBWIB's Inglewood One-

Stop Center is one of 15 Reentry Hubs that provide participants with pre-apprenticeships, vocational training and subsidized employment opportunities resulting in successful pathways to careers. To date the program has served more than 1,800 participants with more than 1,000 being placed into subsidized and unsubsidized employment.

Karen Gutierrez

SUCCESS STORY

Karen Gutierrez was a stay-at-home mother who separated from her spouse, leaving her to financially scrape by to provide for her son. After multiple unsuccessful interviews and disappointments, Karen turned to assistance from her Department of Public Social Services case worker who referred her to the SBWIB's Transitional Subsidized Employment (TSE) program.

The program placed her at a temporary worksite as a front desk representative. Karen completed her worksite hours and with the hard work, training, and encouragement from her SBWIB case manager. As a result, she found full-time employment at, "Homeless Female Veterans and Veterans with Families," as a Job Developer. The program provided Karen with self-sufficiency and she is no longer living paycheck to paycheck.

"I went from being a single mom taking care of a baby and trying to survive to reconciling with my family and no longer needing to live off the system. Thank you SBWIB, DPSS, and the GAIN program, my new life would not be possible without any of you."

Leo Bustillo

SUCCESS STORY

Leo Bustillo - due to the COVID-19 outbreak, Leo experienced despair after losing his car wash business and family. After finishing a detoxification program, he asked for assistance and was informed of the South Bay One-Stop in Carson. Leo attended an employment services orientation, where he talked about his goals and declared himself to be homeless. He was unemployed and had no income for a period of 12 months.

Leo was enrolled in Truck Driver Operator Class A instruction at the College of Instrument Technology and graduated with honors. In September 2022, he started working for Centerline Drivers, LLC as a gainful employee, where they are paying him $28.00 per hour.

GREATER AVENUES FOR INDEPENDENCE PROGRAM (GAIN)

Under contract with the Los Angeles County Department of Public Social Services (DPSS), the SBWIB has been providing Cal WORKS participants with opportunities to not only gain employment, but also stay employed and achieve higher paying jobs that can result in self-sufficiency and independence. Included among other recipients that benefit from the services are:

- Foster Care and former Foster Care eligible youth
- DPSS Transitional - aged youth
- Youth on probation
- Homeless CalWORKS participants
- Refugee participants
- Work Study for CalWORKS participants enrolled in community colleges.

Participants Served Since inception 50,562

TRANSITIONAL SUBSIDIZED EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM (TSE)

Under contract with LA County DPSS, the SBWIB administers the TSE program county-wide, providing on-the-job training to thousands of individuals, giving them a path to self-sufficiency and a career. The SBWIB also contracts with other community based organizations to provide TSE and other support services to homeless populations. Services include access to housing, counseling, job search and employment services and access to computers and training. The SBWIB conducts and promotes ongoing outreach to educate potential employers about the financial benefits of hiring and training TSE applicants in the public and private sectors.

iCARE

The South Bay Workforce Investment Board (SBWIB) secured a contract valued at approximately $1.1 million with the State of California Department of Rehabilitation (DOR) to train up to 100 individuals with disabilities to qualify them for paid work experience assignments at Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) through a collaboration with the Los Angeles World Airport's hospitality iCARE support program (LAWA). The SBWIB has supported LAWA's diversity, equity and inclusion hiring practices for local residents for several years.

Participants become part of the iCARE (Informative, Courteous, Approachable, Responsive and Efficient) Crew that provides vital guest assistance to national and international visitors and travelers trying to navigate around ongoing construction projects at LAX as increased passenger volume spikes. The iCARE Crew is also called upon to supplement LAX staff during emergencies and irregular operations by helping with crowd control and informational needs.

SBWIB provides eligible individuals with Blueprint for Workplace Success work readiness training prior to them being placed into paid work experience assignments at LAX.

"This partnership with LAWA fulfills a need at LAX to not only assist travelers, but also provide employment and experience for community members wanting to earn future jobs in the growing hospitality industry," noted SBWIB Executive Director Jan Vogel. "We are truly grateful for the many years of support the DOR has given us and their confidence in our ability to help people with disabilities gain meaningful employment," he concluded.

The SBWIB has trained and placed 27 California Department of Rehabilitation clients in a 400 hour-paid work experience assignment. Upon completion, they are eligible to apply for permanent career pathway employment at LAX and receive letters of commendation from LAWA management.

BUSINESS SERVICES

The SBWIB One-Stop Business and Career Centers not only offers employment preparation and training opportunities for job seekers, but also provides a variety of services to assist large and small businesses with recruiting qualified candidates to fill their vacant positions. Among the services and support offered are:

recruitment services, including new hire and job placement resources, job fairs, publicizing positions; hiring support, including screening/Live scan, job matching/referrals, skills testing, reference checks; and workforce training, such as on-the-job, customized, and apprenticeship training.

Rapid Response & Layoff Aversion

The SBWIB provides Rapid Response services for companies facing challenges that could result in downsizing, relocation to another town or state, or permanent closure resulting in layoff and displaced employees. Affected employees receive information and support to facilitate their career transition. Rapid Response services can also minimize or avert layoffs due to economic constraints or under-trained incumbent workers. Services could include connecting companies to funding sources for employee training and upgrading employee skills, tax relief, and other business solutions.

Employment Training Panel (ETP)

Through an ongoing collaboration between the South Bay WIB and the state Employment Training Panel (ETP), the SBWIB secured funding to supplement costs employers incur for employee training and skill building, whether workers are currently employed, a new hire or returning to work.

The program relieves employers of some of the administrative and contracting hurdles that are needed if managing the program themselves directly with ETP. It is funded by the Employment Payroll Taxes paid by California employers. The SBWIB/ETP program has a focus on the manufacturing and healthcare sectors, though employees and owners of small businesses are also eligible for funding.

ETP is a business and labor-supported state agency that funds the costs of job skills training.

Olga Stepanenko

SUCCESS STORY

Olga Stepanenko, resident of Redondo Beach and college graduate with a background in international journalism and communications, had been on leave from her prior position because of the COVID-19 epidemic. A career advisor from the South Bay One-Stop in Torrance contacted Olga immediately after she filed for unemployment benefits in 2021.

In March 2022, Olga finished the WIOA-funded Online Marketing Certified Associate (OMCA) Social Media certificate program at LMU Extension. She acquired new abilities in online social media marketing. Olga obtained a new job after receiving her credentials and began working as the operations manager for an organization that provides event and meeting planning services in August 2022. She was able to increase her wage by 56 percent compared to her previous employment.

DISLOCATED WORKER PROGRAMS

The SBWIB has special funding to assist laid-off or dislocated workers including veterans and military personnel recently separated from active duty by providing employment and job training services. They receive comprehensive services tailored to include:

- retraining
- career counseling
- job search and placement assistance
- workshops

Northrop Grumman Corporation

SUCCESS STORY

Northrop Grumman Corporation is a major manufacturer specializing in defense and commercial aerospace, electronics, and information-technology products and services. They design, develop, build and support some of the world's most advanced products, from cutting-edge aircraft, next generation spacecraft, unrivaled cyber security systems and all-seeing radars.

The South Bay Workforce Investment Board partners with Northrop Grumman's Redondo Beach facility to provide workforce development services, including job placement and apprenticeship support. Northrop Grumman has attended several of the SBWIB's One-Stop virtual hiring events, including the Job Fair for transitioning military personnel at Los Angeles Air Force Base, and recently sat on an employer panel at the California Workforce Association's conference in Monterey.

Additionally, in partnership with El Camino College and West Los Angeles College, Northrop Grumman participates in a career pathway pipeline for machining and electromagnetic technician pre-apprentices that results in a Department of Labor registered apprenticeship program. Eighteen individuals who completed training have been selected for hire through Northrop Grumman. Through Aero-Flex and Workforce Innovation Opportunities Act (WIOA) funding, the SBWIB reimburses Northrop Grumman a portion of the apprentices' wages as on-the-job training. These apprentices include workers dislocated due to COVID-19, veterans, long-term unemployed individuals, and youth participants. These individuals are employed at $27.00 an hour with promotional opportunities within the company.

SoCalGas

SUCCESS STORY

As the nation's largest natural gas distribution utility, SoCalGas delivers increasingly clean, safe and reliable energy to 21.8 million consumers through 5.9 million meters in more than 500 communities.

Its service territory encompasses approximately 24,000 square miles in diverse terrain throughout Central and Southern California, from Visalia to the Mexican border. As part of its sustainable business practices, SoCalGas creates an inclusive and equitable workplace that fosters a safe and innovative culture where everyone is respected, feels a genuine sense of belonging, and is positioned for high performance.

SoCalGas serves on the SBWIB Board of Directors and in 2021, agreed to partner with the SBWIB to provide work-based learning support for SoCalGas's diversity, equity and inclusion hiring initiatives to help them find qualified applicants from the South Bay area and prepare them for opportunities with SoCalGas.

During the past program year, the South Bay One-Stop Center in Gardena has recruited over 500 interested applicants, 40 of whom completed test preparation activities and career pathway counseling. Four individuals completed the hiring process and are awaiting a start date. Many more are expected to be hired within the next few months.

LA Air Force Base

SUCCESS STORY

Since 2016, the SBWIB has provided in-person employment services and enhanced transition assistance at the Los Angeles Air Force Base (LAAFB) in El Segundo for military personnel and their family members as they leave active duty and seek new careers in civilian life. Workforce services continue even after the veteran has separated from the service and are also available for spouses of separating military, which includes spouses of active duty and newly-assigned personnel. A renewed Memorandum of Understanding signed earlier this year continues the support for three more years.

This partnership has resulted in quarterly on-campus job fairs exclusively for Air Force personnel at LAAFB and connecting applicants to employers such as Northrop Grumman, Raytheon, The Aerospace Corp, and Cedar Sinai Hospital to name a few. Additionally, the SBWIB staff has assisted hundreds of transitioning service members to achieve greater prosperity and quality of life for themselves and their families as they make the transition out of the military. The community benefits from the retention of a highly-skilled and professional workforce in the Los Angeles South Bay region, which is important for business retention, expansion and economic growth.

The Airplane Factory

SUCCESS STORY

The Airplane Factory and the Sling Pilot Academy located at the Torrance Airport, have been participating in the SBWIB programs to train and upskill their employees, including hosting pre-apprentices and apprentices. They are also participating in the SBWIB Employment Training Panel (ETP) program and using On-the-Job training grants to upskill 13 of their mechanics.

The Sling Pilot Academy is providing vital comprehensive training for pilots seeking a variety of certifications, ranging from private pilots to commercial licenses, helping to address the ongoing nationwide shortage of commercial pilots. The Airplane Factory, which employs 35 people, is the exclusive North American distributor of the Sling line of aircraft products that are sold throughout the nation and are also available as home-built airplane kits.

The primary Sling Aircraft production line is headquartered in South Africa, which manufactures the parts that are shipped to Torrance for final assembly. The Airplane Factory has operated at the Torrance Airport for 14 years.

PRE-APPRENTICESHIP / APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAMS

AERO-FLEX AND BIO-FLEX

Since 2017 almost 400 students have graduated from the SBWIB Aero-Flex and Bio-Flex Pre-Apprenticeship programs that provide career pathway exploration focused on the South Bay's key industry sectors of Aerospace and Bioscience. The SBWIB convened advisory committees composed of industry representatives and training providers from both sectors to develop the employer-driven earn and learn training programs.

AERO-FLEX AND BIO-FLEX PRE-APPRENTICESHIP / APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAMS

Northrop Grumman's first five Aero-Flex apprentices completed the CNC Operator apprenticeship sponsored by El Camino College. The participants were all students at El Camino College who completed the Aero-Flex Pre-Apprenticeship with Northrop Grumman before being hired full-time into the apprenticeship.

The Aero-Flex and Bio-Flex Apprenticeships were developed in partnership with local aerospace manufacturing companies and bioscience/pharmaceutical producers that appreciated having a non-traditional apprenticeship model for employee training. The flexible program structure allowed the employers to define or “flex” the training to fit their specific needs. Many apprentices have completed the Aero-Flex and Bio-Flex Apprenticeships across the country and the SBWIB apprenticeship model is expanding to include other sectors such as IT/Cybersecurity, Healthcare, Arts/Media and Entertainment, Clean Energy and Transportation.

SUCCESS STORY - APPRENTICESHIP

After taking a number of classes at multiple community colleges, including El Camino College, and working at Sling Pilot Academy at the Torrance Airport, 25-year old Shane Wagner became the company's first apprentice.

Shane enrolled in the West Los Angeles College's Aircraft Structures Mechanic Assembler Apprenticeship in April 2021 and received credit for his prior work experience. He completed his remaining course work and On-the-Job training in March 2022. Upon completion of the Aero-Flex apprenticeship, he received a wage increase and certificates of completion from the U.S. Department of Labor and the State of CA Department of Apprenticeship Standards.

“It is a great privilege to receive this Aircraft Structures Mechanic Assembler certification from the Department of Labor and State of CA. I am thoroughly indebted to the skilled technicians, pilots and instructors at Sling Pilot Academy, Rotax Flying and Safety Club, and San Jose State University.”

Miguel Rodriguez

SUCCESS STORY - APPRENTICESHIP

After taking a number of classes at Santa Monica College, Miguel Rodriguez was hired by Bachem Americas in Torrance to be one of their first apprentices in the SBWIB's Bio-Flex Bio-Production Technician Apprenticeship. After a year of hard work and completing additional classes at West Los Angeles College and learning on the job, Miguel completed his Bio-Flex apprenticeship in July and received a wage increase and a certificate of completion from the U.S. Department of Labor.

“Working at Bachem has been an awesome experience. I got to collaborate with some intelligent people, learn some remarkable things, and explore what a scientific profession could look like. Completing this apprenticeship has given me the confidence to further pursue my academic career in the field of biochemistry and valuable skills that will most definitely help me advance in this line of work.”

YOUTH SERVICES

AGES 14 - 24 YEARS OLD

Centinela Valley Union High School District

The SBWIB continues its partnership with Centinela Valley Union High School District to enhance work-based learning opportunities for academy and pathway students. From Fall 2021 through Fall 2022, the SBWIB placed 66 students in internship and pre-apprenticeship opportunities, coordinated 15 guest speakers to join the classroom to provide industry expertise in their field, launched 2 pre-apprenticeship programs in STEM fields, conducted 2 workplace tours, solidified 4 Advisory Board Members, identified 15 school-based internship programs, and assisted with hosting 2 large community partner breakfast events. The partnership with CVUHSD will continue through the end of summer of 2023.

direct work-based learning services through each campus's College and Career Center. Through this added support, the SBWIB engaged with 1,438 students for one-on-one job coaching, delivered 87 workshops and presentations with an additional 1,521 students in attendance, placed 87 students in internships and employment, distributed 1,147 job leads, identified 6 employer speakers who would provide presentations on career opportunities, and offered 8 occupational training opportunities. The on-site representative role continues through the 2022-2023 academic year.

This past academic year, CVUHSD and the SBWIB enhanced its long-standing partnership by implementing an SBWIB on-campus liaison at each of the district's 4 high schools to provide

Chrisie Morris

SUCCESS STORY

Chrisie Morris, 22, is a former foster youth who desired to have a career in media/entertainment, but did not know where to start. She was referred to the South Bay One-Stop in Carson in May 2022.

Chrisie was enrolled in the Bridge to Work and Youth@Work programs and placed on a Paid Work Experience assignment with employer Better Youth, Inc. Chrisie was eventually hired by Better Youth as a creative professional.

Chrisie continues to work while attending CSU Long Beach, where she is taking classes to earn a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Illustration for Pre-Production.

“Everyone needs help with something, and the people at Carson One-Stop and Better Youth are willing to help, but it's your responsibility to speak up for it.”

Symbol Sims

SUCCESS STORY

As a high school senior, Symbol Sims sought services to explore his potential career pathways. He signed up for a Multi-Craft Core Curriculum (MC3) Pre-Apprenticeship Training certificate program. Symbol continued to explore the option to attend college after high school, but affordability was a challenge.

Through the South Bay Workforce Investment Board's partnership, Symbol was connected to the U.S Army ROTC scholarship.

He applied for the scholarship and was awarded a three-year $30,000 ARMY ROTC scholarship to attend California State University, Los Angeles, and pursue a degree in Criminal Justice. This scholarship will help Symbol overcome his financial concerns and allow him to focus on his academics, which will increase his chances of staying in school and graduating on time.

Melissa Moore

“I'd have to tell others that there are people who care to see others succeed and are more than willing to assist you through a transitional time.”

Peter Palmero

“The Inglewood One-Stop Center was extremely helpful in my transformation and reintegration back as a successful member of society.”

“Thank you to the SBWIB for their program. I got to use the laser cutter and they helped me to prepare for interviews.”

Year In Review

The SBWIB led a Prison to Employment (P2E) Program for the Los Angeles Basin Regional Planning Unit (LABRPU). Over 1,800 individuals have received direct services and over 1,000 individuals have completed the program with unsubsidized employment. The SBWIB is also the fiscal agent for the program on behalf of the seven Workforce Development Boards in the LABRPU, which far exceeded enrollments and placements compared to any other region in the state.

The SBWIB, the City of Lomita and the Lomita Chamber of Commerce launched a new program to accelerate economic recovery for Lomita businesses by offering enhanced services through the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021. The program offers no-cost business services, including training options for business owners and their employees as well as wage subsidy programs and other forms of assistance, resources, and a new façade improvement grant offered by the City to Lomita businesses. The SBWIB contacted over 1,000 business in Lomita about the services available to them.

The SBWIB was awarded a $500,000 Community Project Grant from Congresswoman Maxine Waters. The grant helps fund the SBWIB's Bridge-to-Work Career Pathways Program for older foster youth transitioning out of the foster care system.

Nearly 3,500 apprentices are enrolled into the SBWIB's nationwide scaling apprenticeship grant in partnership with West LA College. The SBWIB provides administrative support for the program and also technical assistance for employers wanting to start an apprenticeship program. The sectors targeted include manufacturing in aerospace and bioscience, and information technology.

Over 95 employees from the City of Hawthorne and 5 employees from the City of Gardena completed the SBWIB's new online self-paced and interactive Customer Service training course. The training utilizes the SBWIB's successful Blueprint for Workplace Success model and is available to all South Bay cities for employee training at no cost.

220 youth received in-person or virtual assistance through the Hawthorne and Inglewood Teen Centers during the first quarter. The Centers have resumed providing educational and enrichment programming in-person including workshops in a safe socially distanced environment.

The South Bay WIB formed a partnership with Inglewood Unified School District (IUSD), LA/OC Building Trades, AECOM Hunt, Turner Construction, and Los Positas Chabot to coordinate a Multi-Craft Core Curriculum (MC3) Construction Trades Program. IUSD seniors obtain construction training while earning their high school diploma, obtaining a driver's license, and completing paid work experience hours through the City of Inglewood Public Works Department.

In response to a dramatic increase in inquiries from job seekers 55 years of age and older, the Gardena One-Stop staff began working closely with the Senior Community Service Employment Program - Title V partners to coordinate services for mature workers. The services include access to specialized workshops, wage-based learning programs, and job placement assistance.

The SBWIB joined a two-year Allied Health Regional Project with West Los Angeles College and 12 other community colleges to do sector-based work in allied health with a goal of addressing workforce industry needs. The group meets once a month to discuss training on a regional level in an effort to meet local workforce needs.

The SBWIB Torrance Business & Career Center partnered with the City of Torrance and homeless services partners to assist residents of the new Temporary Housing Village with addressing the barriers that resulted in their homelessness. The Torrance One-Stop provided the residents with work-based learning opportunities that included direct hiring, on-the-job training, paid work experience, short-term vocational training, and supportive services.

The SBWIB maintains an office at the Los Angeles Air Force Base with staff to assist military professionals who are exiting the military and seeking jobs in the South Bay area. The SBWIB conducted a Job Fair at the Base with over 70 transitioning personnel attending including 10 employers such as Raytheon, Northrop Grumman, and the Aerospace Corporation.

The South Bay WIB and the Hospital Association of Southern California hosted a Clinical Laboratory Science orientation for California State University, Dominguez Hills students. As a result, 11 of the students were recruited for enrollment under the Workforce Accelerator Fund. The students received clinical laboratory science training and supportive services to prepare for the credentialing exam.

During the summer, the SBWIB assisted The Airplane Factory, Inc. - Sling Aircraft based at Torrance Airport, by coordinating training to upskill 14 of the Airplane Factory employees. The employees participated in a course about the service and maintenance of aircraft engines. This training supports employees in their current positions and ensures that the Airplane Factory continues to meet Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) guidelines and employees are able to retain their FAA license and remain employed.

The SBWIB completed on-site career pathway services for students at Hawthorne, Lawndale, and Leuzinger High School. Over the course of the last school year, SBWIB staff was able to conduct 1,438 one-on-one sessions with students, conducted 95 workshops attended by 1,654 students, provided 1,147 job leads and enrolled 91 students into internships based on their interest. These services were funded through a California Career Pathways Grant.

During the 4th quarter, the SBWIB completed work readiness and career exploration services under the Inglewood Unified School District (IUSD) Strong Workforce Grant. IUSD students were enrolled into construction, bioscience, and advanced manufacturing pre-apprenticeship programs. A total of 47 IUSD students were placed into internships.

In June a Graduation Ceremony was held for 11 SBWIB YouthBuild graduates who successfully completed the career pathway program and obtained their high school diplomas. YouthBuild program provides a seamless progression from education to work-based training that includes classroom instruction leading to a high school diploma and occupational skills training in construction building trades at approved work sites.

A total of 252 South Bay area youth were enrolled in the WIOA year-round Youth Program; these individuals received pre-employment Blueprint for Workplace Success training and access to free occupational training based on their career interest. Other services included paid work experience at worksites in and around the South Bay region.

Rapid Response services were provided to a total of 16 South Bay companies that employ 655 individuals who were affected by layoffs/closures.

End of the program year totals reflect 65,527 individuals visited our four South Bay One-Stop Business and Career Centers, and 785 youth visited the Inglewood and Hawthorne Teen Centers.

“I'm happy to say that we are pleased of our partnership with the SBWIB. Through this relationship, we have been able to provide our workforce an immersive platform for certified apprentice training that delivers a competitive advantage. Our relationship has been productive, and we hope to keep it that way in the years to come. We will constantly be inspired to perform better and lead the industry by developing our workforce to be the best in class with your help.”

Thank You

During this past program year we continued to benefit from the dynamic partnerships we have developed with public, private and nonprofit sectors that support us in fulfilling our mission to build a world-class workforce throughout the South Bay region.

We gratefully acknowledge the tremendous support provided by our elected officials at the local, state and federal levels of government that makes it possible to access financial support and other resources vital to sustaining our innovative workforce development system that is designed to foster job retention and economic growth.

And a special thank you goes to the dedicated volunteers who serve unselfishly on our board of directors and advisory committees who represent private industry, education, and nonprofit agencies. Their collective expertise provides valuable oversight of our operations and helps to keep us focused on improving the quality of life for individuals and businesses in our service area that includes 11 cities here in the South Bay.
