Gay, Gifted And Black, The LGBTQ Community Honors The Accomplishments of Its Own At Second Annual Truth Awards

In the spirit of awards season, African Americans in the LGBTQ community took their bows and trophies at the Second Annual Truth Awards Gala and Dinner on Saturday, March 5, 2016 at the Taglyan Cultural Complex in Los Angeles. Unlike the Academy Awards with its #OscarsSoWhite controversy, the Truth Awards celebrated self-identifying African American members of the LGBTQ community, whose accomplishments have positively impacted the perception of Black LGBTQ representations.

No envelopes were needed because all the names called that night were winners. One by one, the honorees took the stage and shared "their truth," trials and tribulations
